

Written by William Shakespeare
Directed by Sonia Ritter

Oh time, thou must untangle this'.... Illyria, land of passion – and confusion.

A young woman lands there after a shipwreck at sea and... dresses as a boy. And plunges into a sensuous, singular world of misrule, and a lot of poetry.

To top it, there is a scene at the beginning where you hear the set-up. There's a ring, a letter, and some yellow stockings.

Twelfth Night is old, loved and very wonderful. See it.
